

Multiply awarded Christoph Thoke is executive producing and packaging international projects through his German outlet Mogador Film. A prolific independent producer, Christoph is a Cannes regular with titles garnering 750 festival selection and 170 awards worldwide so far.

Recent title “Of Horses And Men”, an Icelandic-german coproduction, garnered 30 awards and more than 100 festival selections alone. Before Christoph become independent, he was Head of int. Coproduction and Licensing at Germany’s postproduction giant CineMedia Film. Where he was involved in global blockbuster successes like “What Woman Want” starring Mel Gibson.